with Betty Allen...

W. H. Stray brought home first-hand news of Dr. Merrill after his Thanksgiving vacation in the South. He and the former Campbell physician met in Riverside and Mr. Stray learned that the Merrills have purchased a home in North Hollywood.

The bazaar at the Congregational church, organized by the Guild under the leadership of Mrs. C. E. Williams, displayed an amazing amount of clever and original handiwork. The rooms were gaily decorated with Christmas greens and wreaths. Mrs. Oliver Jenson was responsible for the tea served by the Sigmas at attractively decorated small tables. There were many children's clothes displayed which is unusual in these times and the Campbell small fry should fare well this Christmas.

Tomorrow marks the fourth anniversary of Pearl Harbor and in the lives of many it marks the anniversary of the beginning of a long period of horror and heartbreak. Mr. Farley's guest editorial today points out the way to show our awareness of the sacrifices made and the duty done.

Campbell High students and their parents and friends are delighted to learn that Frank Triena, conductor of the high school orchestra and choir, has been appointed concert master of the newly formed San Jose Civic Symphony Orchestra. Triena has been associated at various times with Leopold Stokowski, Willem Van Der Burg, Andre Kostelanetz, and, while a member of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, with Jose Iturbi.

Two young Campbell mothers and their daughters who were among the audience at the San Jose Civic Auditorium to see Antonio Triana with Luisa Triana were Mrs. Jack Murdock and daughter, Sharon, and Mrs. Nick Baum and daughter, Kathryn.

It looks as though the new county building code is really going to have teeth in it. There will probably be several parts of it that will not please everyone, but that's a hard thing to do.

Wonder if the poor little Cub Scout at the father and son banquet who introduced Mr. Shadle as Mr. Clark is still blushing? He had the right occupation anyway.

Ray Mathis in this week's Kiwanis bulletin really tells off the criticizers of the fire department. "Those cracks about the volunteer fire department are probably well deserved, but Clarence, Jack, Ethan and Martin are all of the opinion that if any of you birds think you can do better, there is always room for one more good man in the department. It's not too much fun to pile out of a comfortable office, shop or bed at all times of the night or day and wind up by having to shine your own shoes or have your clothes cleaned. The line forms to the right. Sounds like I'm spouting off where I have no business, but I took it for about seven or eight years, and I know. As a matter of fact, it is my honest opinion that someone should do something for the fire boys for a change, instead of its having to be all give and no take for them."

Among those glimpsed taking part in the festive air prevalent at The What Not anniversady tea last week were Mrs. Frank D. Baker, Mrs. J. Walter Crider and daughter of Los Gatos; Mrs. V. Bailey, DeCoto; Mrs. R. T. Anderson and Mrs. R. A. Sparrow, both of Centerville; Mrs. Mary B. Rasmussen and Mildred Greco, both of San Jose; and among the local women were Mrs. Ralph Hyde, Mrs. W. R. Morgan, Mrs. Edna Smith and Mrs. Hattie Baugh.

If there's a bit of wood shavings or bent nail in your Press this week it's just caused by the general confusion of publishing a paper in the middle of a complete reconversion job.

Community Forum Begins Sunday

The Church Community forum series, sponsored by the Congregational and Methodist churches of Campbell, will hold its first open meeting this coming Sunday evening at 7:30. The place of meeting is the Methodist church, and the speaker of the evening is Dr. Buell Gordon Gallagher who will speak on "One World or No World."

Dr. Gallagher is at the present time professor of Christian Ethics at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley. Until recently he was president of Taladega College. He has also spent a year at the London School of Economics, served a pastorate, and was for a year executive secretary of the inter-seminary movement. His greatest fame, however, lies in the field of race relations. He is one of America's recognized authorities on race. His book, "The Negro College and the American Caste System", is an outstanding work in this field. At present Dr. Gallagher is research director for a series of 13 programs on intercultural relations sponsored by the Columbia Broadcasting System. Few speakers are in greater demand on the Pacific Coast and the Campbell churches are fortunate in being able to obtain this outstanding lecturer.

Elgin C. Hurlburt Visits Here

Elgin C. Hurlburt, brother-in-law of Judge John Blaine, was a weekend guest at the home of Judge and Mrs. Blaine, and his visit was of interest to all the townspeople who remember him as the first publisher of The Campbell Press, known in those days as the Campbell Weekly Visitor.

At the time the paper was started, Mr. Hurulburt was in the printing business in San Jose and the first papers were set and made up in the Hurlburts' front room in their home on Coe Ave. Frank Blaine, Judge Blaine's brother, gathered the news in Campbell, took his copy to the Hurlburt home in San Jose where it was set and made up in the evening by Mr. Hurlburt.

Mrs. Hurlburt was a charter member of the Old Settlers' Day whose first meeting was held at the Sutter Hotel on the corner of Central and Campbell, now occupied by McCoy Shell Service Station.

Mr. Hurlburt who was renewing old acquaintances here praised the present Campbell paper and recalled many events of the past.

Kiwanis Club

Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting featured the A Capella Campbell High school choir directed by Frank Triena, an annual event. Guests present for the luncheon were Cal Kirby of the San Jose club, Carl Fields Jr., Lieut. John Talia, Dr. Gabe C. Long, Gregory Parker, Clarence Hampshire of the Los Gatos club, and Charles Busick, student body manager of the high school. G. Martin Allen was inducted into the club and plans were made to have a recording machine at the next meeting to make records of the club voices.

Largest Fruit Dryer Is Being Operated By Campbell Co-Op

Largest co-operative fruit dehydrating plant in the world is that of the Campbell Co-operative Dryer, which this year has increased its capacity to 360 green tons a day, or a season prune drying capacity of about 12,500 tons.

Serving Association growers in the Campbell, Los Gatos, and, in part, Oak Grove and Cupertino-Saratoga locals, the Campbell plant has been expanded from an initial capacity of about 3000 tons in 1937 to its present size.

This growth is attributed to aggressive leadership and good management which not only sought maximum use of the plant during fruit harvest seasons, but negotiated its lease since 1942 for off-season use by commercial concerns for the dehydrating of potatoes, carrots and cabbage.

To the 24 tunnels already in use, the dryer this year added 12 more tunnels, additional warehousing, dipper line, and other equipment. The plant now represents an investment of about $235,000.

Here in brief is the record of tonnages handled: 1937, 2930 tons; 1938, 3896 tons; 1939, 2531 tons; 1940, 4591 tons; 1941, 6052 tons; 1942, 6076 tons; 1943, 6807 tons; 1944, 6093 tons; and this year it is expected to dry 11,000 green tons.

Christmas Seal Sale Lags

Seal sale returns for the first two weeks, as compared with the first two weeks last year, show that this year's sale is still lagging. Prompt returns were urged by Martin Walsh, Seal sale chairman for Campbell. Those persons who received Seals through the mail are urged to mail in their contributions as soon as possible or return the Seals. The sale opened Nov. 19 and will last through Christmas day.

If you did not receive Seals and want them, you may request them through the Association's office, 506 Commercial Building, San Jose; phone Columbia 650, or by calling Martin Walsh, Campbell 3478.

Seals sale funds during 1945 were used for a county-wide chest X-raying program. About 10,000 people in the county were X-rayed Seal sale funds also paid for public health nursing service, free tuberculin for physicians, films and educational pamphlets for schools, health departments and the general public.

Funds raised in this year's campaign will be used to finance a continued X-rayed program, but on a larger scale.

Hamilton Rites

Final rites were held Monday for Robert A. Hamilton, who had been a resident of Campbell for 65 years. His father was a famous whaling boat skipper, Capt. James Albert Hamilton of Suffield, Conn., the birthplace of his son. During World War I the renowned rancher was credited with breaking all previous records in the valley for production of Moorpark apricots by tons of the acre.

His services were conducted at the Rancadore and Alameda Funeral Home with interment at Oak Hill Memorial Park. Hamilton is survived by a son, James A., of San Jose, and a sister, Mrs. Edith Marrs of Campbell.

Fields Visit Nephew

The Carl Field family, including Bobby Jo, a student at Berkeley, visited a nephew, Dale Fields, at Camp Stoneman last Sunday. He recently returned after two years in the Philippines.

Census To Be Taken Here

The Campbell Water Co. is asking the cooperation of all Campbell citizens in taking Campbell's first census. Ralph Hyde of the Water Co. requests all people paying their bills at the Water Co. office to leave the names and ages of all people in the home. This information may be telephoned in to the office, also.

It is hoped that this census will aid the town in obtaining improvements for the schools and the town itself. All the information received will be available for use by the Chamber of Commerce and may be of assistance in bringing new industries and residents to Campbell.

Anyone living within the following boundaries should give information about themselves and family.

Campbell is bounded as follows: on the East by Los Gatos Creek; on the North by Hamilton, Rosemary and Latimer avenues; on the West by San Tomas Creek; and on South by Rincon, Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road and Kennedy Ave.

Those living within these boundaries should bring or telephone information regarding themselves and families to the Water Company office on Campbell Ave.

Planning Member Reports Meeting

Herbert M. Shadle, County Planning Commissioner, reports that, at the last regular meeting of the Santa Clara County Planning Commission in the San Jose Court House, the secretary read a letter from Martin S. Walsh, secretary of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, requesting the Planning Commission to investigate the possibility of establishing an official plan line setback on Campbell Ave. from the San Jose-Los Gatos Road to the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road. After some discussion the chairman ordered the secretary to advise the Campbell Chamber of Commerce that the staff would make a study of the matter and confer with them later with regard to holding public hearings in connection with the matter.

The board at this meeting voted to grant a variance in the provisions of the zoning ordinance to permit P. N. Flagg the construction and operation of a locker plant on property located on an alley lying between Fourth St. and the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road just south of Sanford Ave.

Also at this meeting Commissioner Shadle introduced a resolution amending the zoning ordinance in regard to the east and west sides of the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road north of Campbell Ave. to a point approximately 600 feet north of Latimer Ave. Public hearings will be held on this at the Court House at 2 p. m., Dec. 12, and 2 p. m., Jan. 9.

Navy Man On Leave

Paul L. Stone, Seaman 1/c, USN, is spending his leave in Campbell at the home of his mother, Mrs. Omega Stone, Page St. He is a graduate of the Campbell High school and at the time he entered the service was employed by the railroad in San Jose. Ten months of his 16 months in the service was spent in the South Pacific.

Volunteers To Drill

The volunteer firefighters will hold their monthly drill Sunday, Dec. 16, at 9:30 a. m.

Due to the increased cost of producing the paper and in conformity with other weekly papers in the state, the subscription rate of The Campbell Press will be $2 per year, beginning Jan. 1, 1946. All those desiring to renew their subscriptions or buy new ones, may do so at the present rate of $1.50 before Jan. 1.

Bucs Start To Work For Basketball Season

It was a case of "no rest for the Bucs" this week as many of the Campbell High athletes, having finished their football schedule last Friday, began workouts in preparation for their first basketball game.

San Jose Hi acts as hosts to the Bucs this Friday evening for two games—the lightweights starting at 7:00 o'clock. Lincoln Hi 30's come to Campbell next Wednesday afternoon for a 3:30 game, with the varsities engaging in their dual following Ernie Smith's appearance at the Campbell auditorium the same evening.

Seventy-five lightweights and twenty-five varsity candidates answered the bell at the opening practice session. At the present time there are about twenty on each squad.

The "Thirties" roster is as follows: forwards—Ray Fish, Milton Howe, Chas. Rizzuto, Bill Maggineti, Dan Hill, Dick Sakamoto, Richard Gerasci, Eldred Nelson, Don Ervin, Ron LaMar, George Gleed; centers—Rolla Reider, Fred Kurasaki, and Harold Richardson; guards—Vic Corsiglia, Chas. Savestrom, Ron Flagg, Mac Martin, Don Fagalde, Walter Trask, and Roy Wingartner.

The probable starting lineup will include Fish, Ervin, Reider, Corsiglia and Fagalde and Kosich, Meyer, Estrada, Buck and Nelson.

Electrical Engineer Here

H. Kennedy Bliss, electrical engineer for the Board of Underwriters for the Pacific, has recently made a thorough inspection of the Campbell fire hydrants, the pumping plant of the Water Co., and the firefighting equipment of the Volunteer Fire Department. All of these were found in excellent condition, including the standby equipment of the Water Company. Mr. Bliss said that the members of the fire department were to be congratulated on the condition of all the equipment. It is hoped that his investigation will result in an insurance rate reduction for Campbell.

Few Cases In Justice Court

Criminal cases in Campbell Justice Court for November were confined to one battery charge and one "non-stop" motor vehicle charge, each with a plea of guilty, and one petty theft charge with a plea of not guilty. The latter case will come up for trial.

Lack of motor vehicle cases has been partly due to the fact that since gas rationing has been off traffic officers have been very busy dealing with problems on the main through highways north and south of San Jose.

Daughter Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Betty Ruth, born at 8:30 Tuesday morning at O'Connor Sanitarium. This is their second child. Grandparents are Mrs. Hilda Munson, Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Benson, Campbell.

Parkers To Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Parker are new-comers to Campbell from Newman, Calif. Mr. Parker was recently discharged from the armed forces and plans to live in Campbell and will be employed at the Campbell Hardware Company.

Weeklies and Victory Loan

Weekly newspapers have been lauded by the Treasury department for the part they have played in every bond drive, and Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, who is interested not only in the bond drive but in the future economy of the rural areas, says that the continued efforts of weekly newspapers in rural areas to encourage bond-buying and keeping will have a definite effect on the prosperity and well-being of these areas. He says, "The financial stability of agriculture for the next 25 years will be determined in large measure by the way the farmers use their expanded wartime income. I cannot urge them too strongly to keep on saving, buying and holding U. S. bonds until th danger of inflation is over."

Merle L. Predmore, Associate Field Director of Agriculture, says that in the farming areas the financial stability of the merchants will depend to a large extent on the way the formers use their money. He feels that weekly newspapers have a responsibility toward this. "In achieving this goal of farm financial stability through wise investment of wartime earnings, no group can help more than the editors of the weekly newspapers. Your papers reach America at the grass roots. In the past War Loans you have done a magnificent job. But now in the Victory Loan, I feel we all have an even bigger task in making sure that agriculture carries over into the years of peace the financial gains farmers have made in war time.

"The last big opportunity for farmers to invest in financial security for the next generation is the Victory Loan. Let's make it sure they make the most of it. This time let's make sure farmer dads welcome their victorious sons home with a big sheaf of Victory Bonds. A generation ago they had only a bigger and better mortgage to show for their wartime efforts."

Commentator To Speak Here

Next Wednesday evening, Dec. 12, at 8 p. m., the community is invited to the High school auditorium to hear Ernie Smith, well-known radio sports commentator, who will speak on "Sports". This event is sponsored by the Campbell Post American Legion and will be followed by a varsity basketball game. The Campbell team will play Abraham Lincoln High school of San Jose.

The Legion announces that no admission charge will be made.

Free Ads For Veterans

Joining a nation wide group of weekly newspapers in an effort to be of assistance to veterans, The Campbell Press will print free of charge any classified ads desired by Campbell veterans.

The movement is designed to help job-seeking ex-service people and local employers get together. John H. Perry, president of Western Newspaper Union, says, "The chief thing that is needed in this reconversion period is to let the man without a job know where there is a job which he can fill, and that someone wants him to fill it."

All Campbell servicemen or service women are welcome to use the classified column of The Press in stating their qualifications and preferences for jobs.

EDITORIAL

The 20th annual Great Western Livestock show being held in Los Angeles from Dec. 1 to 7, is attracting wide attention in the West not only because of the extensiveness of the livestock industry in this area, but also because it affords a special opportunity to farm youngsters to exhibit their achievements in livestock raising which they undertake as part of their activities in the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America.

To the junior farmers the activities of 4-H and Future Farmers play an important part in their lives. These organizations constitute two of the most constructive and successful youth programs anywhere in America.

The support given them by all segments of community life—merchants, bankers, school officials, clergymen and others has proved well worth while over the years. California's largest bank which serves hundreds of farming communities throughout the State has long made a practice of helping the rising farm generation to accomplish more through their own efforts by making business loans directly to the youngsters themselves.

These financial transactions teach them the value and necessity of keeping accurate records of income and expense, and of maintaining their projects on a sound, business-like basis. Had the last generation of farmers been so trained, farm failures would have been fewer.

Through the activities of 4-H and Future Farmers, America is not only training better farmers but better citizens.

The 4-H pledge, for instance, is one which every individual, regardless of age, would do well to practice: "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living, for my club, my community, and my country."

Today's guest editorial is written by Guy Farley, a real estate man in Campbell for many years. Mr. Farley has earned the respect and affection of his fellow-townspeople by his willingness to assume responsibility in community matters. He has served as secretary for almost every civic organization in Campbell, was first secretary of the Kiwanis club and is a past president of that group. For years he was Red Cross chairman here and for the last two years headed the War Bond Drive. This year he again took it over and is doing a fine job of a hard task.

Next week's guest editorial writer will be Miss Dorothy Merriman, acting vice-principal of the Campbell Union High School.

Guest Editorial

"WE BOUGHT A VICTORY BOND BECAUSE WE CARE"

By GUY FARLEY

Campbell residents have purchased 65% of their E bond quota in the Victory Loan drive.

Many homes are displaynig this evidence of their participation in the Victory Loan Bond Drive, and many more will be displayed before the end of the drive next Saturday, December 8th. True, the response has not been what we hoped, but we still have faith in the people of the Campbell district and do not believe you will fail. WHY?

Because you helped to pay for the most expensive war in history.

You worked—you saved—your self denial was never questioned.

Now—in the Victory Loan—we know you will lend to pay for peace.

There is bound to be some let down after almost four years of war—enthusiasm wanes—sometimes selfish personal matters become paramount; but there are other factors to be considered—many have bought their full quota of bonds—many are not now as financially able to invest—many have had to cut down on their purchases because of other obligations.

But, we do not believe it is any lack of patriotism on the part of the American people that is responsible for the slow progress of the drive to date—we feel they will assume their full responsibility for the care of wounded veterans and to assist in the rehabilitation of those who left their homes and jobs to answer their country's call, so we now make a final appeal to you to invest in this last bond drive—there will be no more—let's not fall down on this one.

Possibly you have been missed by the volunteer workers—don't let that keep you from doing your part—just phone and we'll call for your subscription.

THEY did more than their share—don't fail them now.

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON

EISENHOWER—DEMOCRAT OR REPUBLICAN

WASHINGTON. — When Admiral Dewey returned triumphant from capturing the Philippines in the Spanish-American war, newsmen asked the conquering hero whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. The admiral wasn't quite sure which. That ended the Dewey boom for President.

Today, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower may be put in the same position as Admiral Dewey. Both parties are considering new blood for 1948. GOP leaders are convinced that, given a candidate who can win labor votes yet not alienate the Hoover conservatives, they can win. Obviously, Eisenhower is important presidential timber.

Popular impression is that Eisenhower is a Republican. He was appointed to West Point from the rock-ribbed Republican state of Kansas by GOP Senator Joseph P. Bristow. And nobody in those days could get anywhere in Kansas unless he was a Republican.

However, though it may be news to GOP leaders, Dwight Eisenhower put himself on record early in life as a Democrat. Furthermore, he was an energetic William Jennings Bryan Democrat, and in November, 1909, made a speech at the annual Democratic banquet held in Abilene, Kas. The other speakers were older and seasoned Kansas Democrats; but Dwight Eisenhower, then only 19, was picked to stand up with them and harangue the crowd. He did.

IKE'S OLD FRIEND

I am indebted for this information to J. W. Howe, now of Emporia, Kan. Howe not only published the Abilene News, but was a member of the school board and knew young Dwight better than anyone outside his own family.

The Abilene News office was headquarters for a group of high school boys who came there to discuss their problems, talk sports and politics, read the papers and do odd jobs for the paper. J. W. Howe says of Eisenhower:

"Dwight liked to read the exchange papers from out of town. He never complained about working, seemed to take that for granted. In school discussions, he was always for the under-dog and contended we needed a somewhat better distribution of wealth."

William Jennings Bryan at that time had made many speechs in Abilene and the young folks liked to hear him. In fact, Bryan made some definite inroads on the Republicans. The Republican party at that time was beginning to be split in to two groups, led by Taft and Teddy Roosevelt. The fight in Abilene was bitter, and this was the situation when Dwight Eisenhower started out in 1909 to get the proper endorsements to enter West Point.

DWIGHT GOT TO WEST POINT

The Eisenhower family had no political pull—on the contrary. Dwight's father was listed as a Democrat, though he took little part in politics. Dwight himself was more active than his father, but whatever pull he had was with the Democrats. However, the factional Republican fight helped him. Editor Howe', the town's chief Democratic leader, advised Dwight to get the endorsement of Phil W. Heath, editor of the Abilene Chronicle and spokesman for the "Square-Deal" Republicans; also to get the endorsement of Charles M. Harger, editor of the Abilene Reflector, spokesman for the "Stand-Pat" Republicans.

Since young Eisenhower was not allied with either faction, Heath and Harger were very friendly, and gladly gave him their support. Thus, he was able to obtain not only the endorsement of the Democrats, but of both Republican factions—a real compliment to his standing in the community.

Eisenhower's first and only venture into politics occurred while he was taking postgraduate work at the Abilene high school, preparatory to West Point. Chief speaker at the Democratic banquet was George H. Hodges, late governor of Kansas. Dwight's subject was "The Student in Politics".

Two themes ran through the speech of the 19-year-old future commander of the Allied armies in Europe—preparedness and helping the under-dog.

According to the Abilene News: "To say that he handled himself nicely would be putting it mildly. His speech was well received."

A few months later, Ike Eisenhower was in West Point, where no one is supposed to be either a Democrat or a Republican.

EISENHOWER MERRY-GO-ROUND

In high school, young Dwight was called "Ugly Ike." . . . One day a gang of schoolboys trooped into J. W. Howe's editorial offices to narrate how Ike fell off a horse. 'The horse turned his head to knock off a fly and Ike just fell off," they said. . . . Dwight had come in walking on one leg and guarding his arm. He just grinned. Actually, the horse had stepped in a hole and fallen, but Ike never tried to explain it to the other boys. . . . The Eisenhower gang at school had odd traits.

Skating Vanities Coming to S. F.

Gloria Nord, Skating Vanities of 1946

One of the most novel and colorful extravaganzas in the entertainment field, Harold Steinman's "Skating Vanities of 1946", will return to San Francisco's Civic Auditorium on Wednesday evening, January 16, for its second annual engagement there.

The star-studded skating revue, produced at a cost of $250,000 and with a cast of 125 headed by lovely Gloria Nord, will continue nightly in 15 gala performances through Jan. 30.

"Skating Vanities" is a lavish prod uct of Broadway, directed by Fanchon and Marco, and including gorgeous costumes and settings, solo and ensemble dance routines, comedy, acrobatics and many unusual variety acts during its two and one-half hour presentation.

The dazzling revue claims one of the largest chorus lines in show business, with 60 beauteous and talented girls, each an accomplished skater and ballet dancer in her own right. These glamorous chorines, called the "Vanity Fairs", appear in several of the show's eight major production numbers, and participate in smaller units in most of the "Skating Vanities" 30 all-star variety acts.

Among the many innovations to be introduced to Northern California audiences during the show's San Francisco run is a specially-designed series of ramps, down which the skaters descend onto the sound-proof masonite arena floor in a thrilling entrance. It is the first time such a novel entrance has ever been attempted.

Although "Skating Vanities" is now in its fourth year the coming engagement will mark the revue's second showing in San Francisco. The 1945 edition proved itself a tremendous success in the Bay City, and present indications are that the 1946 presentation will draw record crowds.

Tickets will be on sale Dec. 10 at the Crane box office, 245 Powell St., San Franciesco. Special attention will be given to mail orders.

The U. S. Coast Guard has lowered its educational requirements for enlistment, Ensign Margaret A. Dunker, 12th Naval District Recruiting Officer, announced today.

Grammar school graduates between 17 and 25 are now eligible to apply for either a two or three year term of enlistment.

Coast Guardsmen take their 12 weeks' boot training at the Coast Guard Training Station, Alameda.

Enlistees will be given an opportunity to further courses for any of the following jobs: radio technician, radar man, aviation ratings, electrician's mate, yeoman, storekeeper, motor mechanic, mechinist's mate, boatswain's mate, quartermaster, pharmacist's mate, and many others.

Young men interested in joining the Coast Guard should communicate immediately with the Coast Guard Recruiting Station, 113 Appraisers Building, 630 Sansome St., San Francisco.

The good things of life are not to be had singly, but come to us with a mixture,—like a schoolboy's holiday with a task affixed to the tail of it.—Lamb.

Civil Service Engineers Needed

The United States Civil Service Commission is recruiting enginemen (steam-electric) to be in charge of power plants and auxiliaries in government buildings in Washington, D. C. These war service positions pay $1968, $2166, and $2364 a year.

All applicants must have had experience with electrical machinery. Experience in the operation of Diesel, air-conditioning, or refrigerating equipment is desirable but not essential. For information on specific types of qualifying experience and length of experience required, see Announcement No. 411 for Engineman (Steam-Electric).

There is no age nor education requirement for these positions. A written test is not required.

These examinations have been opened to the general public because a sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among veterans entitled to have examinations reopened. All qualified persons are invited to apply. Applications will be accepted until December 20, 1945.

The new Engineman announcement (No. 411) and application forms may be obtained from most first- and second-class postoffices, from Civil Service Regional Offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications should be sent to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Teachers Elect Officers

Among the teachers elected as Council representatives of the California Teachers Association at the Bay Section Council in San Francisco, Dec. 1, are Daniel Stone, Miss Mary S. Lewis, and Miss Dorothy Merriman of the Campbell schools.

Country Woman's Club Has Tea

The members of the Campbell Country Woman's Club enjoyed an unusually fine Christmas party on Monday afternoon, Dec. 3. The glowing fire in the fireplace enabled the members to feel the real warmth of the Christmas spirit. Evergreen branches, pines, toyon berries and red candles were attractively arranged upon the mantle and around the club room.

A short business session was called to order by the president, Mrs. Carl Field. The meeting opened with Pledge of Allegiance and patriotic song led by Mrs. Ricardo Villafuerte with Mrs. David Rutherford at the piano. The club voted to give their customary Christmas donations to the tuberculosis fund, Veterans of World War I at Palo Alto Hospital, and to the camp and hospital fund. New members welcomed by the president were Mesdames Norman La Veque, Ray A. Steindorf, Wm. N. Lloyd, and Harold Drummond.

Mrs. A. W. Wellington, chairman of the committee for the day presented Mrs. Charles E. Brandenburg, program chairman, who presented the High School A Capella choir, under the direction of Frank Triena. The program was augmented by piano solos rendered by Miss Muriel Stone.

A miniature Christmas tree served as a center piece for the attractively laid tea table, accented by tall tapers. Serving were Mrs. Carl Field and Mrs. Ralph Hyde.

Serving on the committee for the party were Mrs. Arthur W. Wellington assisted by Mesdames Jack E. Murdock, Calvin B. Bohnett, Charles E. Brandenburg, Hans E. Hansen, Martin S. Walsh, Wm. H. Scott, Dan Clark, and Miss Winnie Grizzle.

Robert James Discharged

After receiving an honorable discharge fro m the armed forces at Camp Beale, Sergeant Robert G. James returned to Campbell, where he and his wife are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred James, Casey Road. James amassed 77 points during his four years in the service. One year of this time was spent overseas where he was chief clerk with the 166th General Hospital, and where he was awarded the European theater ribbon and the Victory medal.

Alterations at Wheelers

Alterations in the dining room at Wheeler's Orchard City Creamery are now in progress. The dining room has been enlarged and new service arrangements instigated.

John J. Gomez Dies

Among the three Campbell men claimed by death last week, was John J. Gomez, who for many years operated a barber shop here. He retired several years ago due to ill health. His funeral was held Monday, Dec. 3, at 9 a. m. from the Rancadore and Alameda Funeral Chapel, thence to the Five Wounds church where requiem mass was celebrated. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery. The preceding evening friends also attended the recitation of the rosary at the funeral chapel.

Gomez leaves his wife, Rosa C. Gomez, 85 S. 2nd St., a son, John E. Gomez and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Comisky, both of New York City; eight grandchildren, three great grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Felemenia Alvernaz who resides in Pico, Azores Island, which was the birthplace of Mr. Gomez.

Agostinho Visits S. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Agostinho attended the Stewart Warner dealers' meeting at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco last week. Agostinho has been made representative in Campbell for Stewart Warner.

New Mission Trails President

Ray Hewitt

John M. Ratto, president of the California Mission Trails Associatino, announces the election of Raymand J. Hewitt of Los Angeles as the general manager of this well-known tourist promotion association.

Known familiarly to most of the hotel, resort and travel industry all over the West as "Ray", Mr. Hewitt brings a wealth of experience to his new position. Starting back in 1925, he pioneered Travel Tales over the NBC Radio Station KFI in Los Angeles, later moving to Warner Bros. KFWB in Hollywood, where his Resort Reporter programs, 15 minutes—5 days a week, were a most popular feature right up to the time he went into the armed services in 1942.

From 1937 to 1942 he carried on the dual activities of his radio programs and Resort Editor of the Los Angeles Daily News. Here, too, he built a most popular feature in a tri-weekly column "The Open Road." During this time Mr. Hewitt also compiled a complete vacation and travel guide of the 11 Western States under the title "Along Western Trails". This has been called one of the finest vacation guides ever compiled.

With such a background of experience and contacts with the travel industry all over the United States, it appears that the Mission Trails Association has picked a spark plug that will be a great asset. Best wishes are extended to this organization in the belief that they will go forward in doing an even bigger and better job of travel promotion than they have done during past years.

It will be a "Jeep" Christmas for about 700 former service men living in California, Nevada and Arizona, Reconstruction Finance Corporation's Surplus Property Office, Consumer Goods Division, said today.

The 700 constitute the total number of veterans in this region who, up to Nov. 30, had been certified by Smaller War Plants Corporation that they required "Jeeps" for commercial or farm purposes.

Nationally, the agency reports that it now has a pool of about 1900 new and 4400 used "Jeeps" which for the next ten days have been frozen for those veterans certified by SWPC. About 700 of this number are allocated to this region. Orders from veterans, who have been duly certified, are now being received by OSP's Veterans Service Unit, 1540 Market St., in San Francisco, as well as by the agency's district offices in Los Angeles, Phoenix and Reno.

"Jeep" selling prices to veterans are: 1945, 1944, 1943 models, $782; 1942 models, $695; 1941 models, $598. These prices apply to vehicles in substantially new mechanical condition, including rebuilt "Jeeps". For less desirable vehicles these prices will be further reduced on an appraisal basis to compensate for replacement cost of missing parts, plus the estimated cost of labor required to place the vehicles in good mechanical condition.

Everybody has his own theatre, in which he is manager, actor, prompter, playwright, sceneshifter, boxkeeper, doorkeeper, all in one, and audience into the bargain. —J. C. and A. W. Hare.

Civil Service Exams Open

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for positions in Washington, D. C., as Engineering Draftsman, Civil Engineering Aid, and Stationary Fireman. These examinations have been opened to the public because a sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among veterans entitled to have examinations reopened. All qualified persons are invited to apply.

Positions as Engineering Draftsman pay from $1704 to $2980 a year. To qualify as Engineering Drafteman, $1704, applicants must have had 6 months of drafting experience or comparable training above the high school level. Additional experience or training is required for positions at the higher salaries. The positions are in the following branches of drafting: aeronautical, architectural, civil, electrical, lithographic, mechanical, ship, statistical, structural, topographic, and general. Applicants must be at least 17½ years of age except that applicants living in Washington, D. C., or vicinity may apply if they are 16. There is no maximum age limit. Applications for Engineering Draftsman will be accepted until January 8, 1946.

Civil Engineering Aid positions paying $2100 and $2320 a year are open to applicants with two and three years respectively of appropriate experience or technical training. Qualified persons of any age are invited to apply. There is no closing date for receipt of applications.

To qualify for positions as Stationary Fireman (High Pressure) and Stationary Fireman (Low Pressure), applicants must have had at least one year of appropriate experience in the firing, maintenance, and repair of steam boilers. The positions pay $1770 and $1572 a year respectively. There are no age limits for these positions. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

No written test is required for Engineering Draftsman, Civil Engineering Aid, or Stationary Fireman.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from first- and second-class post offices, from Civil Service Regional Boards, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Jack Anderson Introduces Veterans Aid Bill

That the welfare of disabled veterans and returning service men of this country is as important as the rehabilitation of foreign countries is stressed in a bill introduced in the House of Representatives this week by Congressman Jack Z. Anderson.

In his speech introducing the bill Anderson stated that great pressure has been exerted upon the administrative agencies of the United States Government and its legislative branches to provide funds for the restoration of devastated countries throughout the world and for the rehabilitation of people in foreign lands whose lives have been disrupted by the ravages of war. However, Anderson stated bluntly, "The United States owes a duty of care to its own disabled veterans whose homes and lives have been disrupted by reason of the war."

Anderson's resolution states, "That the Government of the United States, in every appropriation of moneys to be used, directly or indirectly, for the restoration of devastated countries or the rehabilitation of needy people in foreign lands, it be provided that a similar sum be appropriated and expended for the rehabilitation of disabled veterans of this country and for aid to veterans whose homes and lives have been disrupted by reason of the war."

We're cutting down our waiting list... every day

Right now, throughout the Pacific Coast, we are installing thousands of telephones. Every day our waiting list is being cut down.

Our rate of progress in completing our unfilled orders is dependent upon the receipt of the necessary equipment from our manufacturers who are going ahead as rapidly as possible in reconverting from all-out war production to supplying our peacetime needs.

Still, it will take some time before we can provide service for everyone who wants it. Where the instrument itself is all that is needed, we are well on our way to take off the waiting list all such unfilled applications. But there are many places where we will have to build complicated switchboards . . . others where we will have to put up entire new buildings.

You may be certain, though, that your telephone is on the way and that we are doing everything humanly possible to hurry the day we bring it to you.

Ada Rebekahs Meet

During the business meeting plans were made to have an old-fashion Christmas party at the next regular meeting, Dec. 18, with the Theto Rho girls and the children of the members as guests. The members are requested to bring a 25 cent gift for the girls or children.

Election of officers was held and the following elected to office: Neva Kinney, noble grand; Ruth Livingston, vice grand; Lillian Ohlen, recording secretary; Dora Bernadasci, financial secretary; Zadie Rice, treasurer; and Anna Bachman, trustee.

At the close of the lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Parr favored the members with several musical numbers, after which the members adjourned to the banquet room to enjoy refreshments, served by Clara Baldwin and her committee.

The committee for the next regular meeting consists of Neva Kinney and Angela Quetin, co-chairmen, assisted by the following: Ruth Livingston, Virginia Currie, Estelle Kilgallen and Grace Gardner.

Air Corps Seeks Aid In Rescues

The residents of every farm, village, town and city in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho are being asked to assist a new search and rescue program of the Fourth Air Force which has been organized to save the lives of flying personnel who crash or parachute from their planes, Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, Commanding General, Fourth Air Force, has announced.

If you see a plane crash, call the police, sheriff or state highway patrol immediately giving them the details of the incident, the location and your name and address. They will forward the information to the proper Army or Navy authorities.

Residents of these five western states can also help in locating missing planes. Currently a widespread search is continuing in the Fourth Air Force area for two B-24 heavy bombers missing since Nov. 1. On that date four of the huge four-motored aircraft took off from McChord Field, Wash., enroute to Portland, Ore. Later one of the planes landed at Arcata, Calif., and a second at Redmond, Ore. Nothing has since been seen or heard of the other two planes.

If you have any clew as to the whereabouts of these planes forward your information to the nearest law enforcement agency who will send it on to the Fourth Air Force search and rescue organization, the 475th AAF Base Unit.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet

The social meeting of the Campbell American Legion Auxiliary was held Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, with the president, Gertrude Wood, presiding. After a short business session the evening was spent in games. Just before refreshments a young wife of one of the Legionnaires was honored with a beautiful cake, trimmed in blue and pink and having a large stork as the main decoration; to her surprise the unit presented its gift of a most modern "Kiddie Bath." The cake was cut and served with sandwiches and chocolate by the junior members.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 12, when a large class will be initiated into the Auxiliary. The unit's Christmas party will also be held that evening. Hazel Wilson is general chairman, and will be assisted by her committee. All attending are asked to bring a small gift, not to cost over 25 cents, for the gift exchange.

Mrs. Wood requests that each member make a special effort to be present.

Discharges Make Problems

The present War Department policy of discharging out-of-state war veterans in California is creating a serious unemployment problem here.

This fact was revealed today by Richard H. Newhall, California Department Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Newhall said that the number of "penniless war veterans" in this state is increasing rapidly and that demands for relief are skyrocketing.

The VFW chief said he will ask military authorities to ship all out-of-state veterans to discharge centers nearest their homes. This, he said, is the only method whereby California can hold its unemployment to a minimum.

"At the present time," said Commander Newhall, "out-of-state veterans are being discharged in California. They are paid off, given transportation money and left to shift by their own devises as to how to get to their homes.

"While waiting around for train, plane or bus reservations, many of these boys, lonesome and eager for a good time, fall in with questionable characters, who either aid them to spend their pay and transportation money or rob them of it. Penniless and alone, many of them do not have the price of a meal or a telegram to relatives or friends for funds to take them home. As a result, some of these boys, as well as many out-of-state men who prefer to remain in California rather than return to their homes in the Middle West or East, are jobless and without funds."

Newhall declared the problem could be eased greatly if military authorities shipped out-of-state men to their homes for discharge, thus relieving the present mounting unemployment situation which is being reflected in increased demands for relief.

He who is taught to live upon little owes more to his father's wisdom than he that has a great deal left him does to his father's care.—William Penn.

It is always safe to learn even from our enemies, seldom safe to instruct even our friends.—Colton.

State Chamber of Commerce Meets

Every part of California has its share of problems due to housing shortage, scarcity of building materials and serious lack of labor for farms. But the overall picture is one of progress—and each section sees prospects of improvements due to unified statewide action.

This evidence of interdependence of industry, business, farming, finance and recreational activities all over California was reiterated during the two-day membership meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles. Hundreds of members from all parts of the State, and all major lines of endeavor told of their problems, and discovered that the situation in almost every case was statewide.

Recognized authorities spoke at the various departmental meetings and members joined in in discussions that clarified many issues. The board of directors took action on many vital matters presented.

Postwar California was revealed as far ahead of other places in meeting the shock of reconversion—but still plagued by housing shortage, scarcity of materials, and confusion over some governmental regulations.

Warning that the perils of peace can be as great as the perils of war, Harrison S. Robinson, Oakland, president of the State Chamber, cautioned labor and management to cooperate if democracy is to endure.

"The greatest danger to American democracy today is that the people as a whole are confused," he declared at a membership meeting. "Those who intended actively to support democracy must be constantly prepared to furnish information about the issues involved in the conflict between democracy to totalitarianism, and to keep alive the interest in those issues. There are not a million Americans who will knowingly stand for the destruction of democracy. On any issue involving both ethics and practical judgment, we are safer to accept the decision of a majority of adult Americans who have been exposed to facts and arguments by proponents and opponents of a measure for 10 or more years, than to take the opinion of any small group, no matter how great their stature or how profound their learning."

A call for statewide unified effort to meet California's pressing problems was made by Governor Earl Warren.

"These problems must be solved, either by the State and its local subdivisions or by the Federal government," Warren stated. "Most of these can be solved here at home if we face the facts, and are not afraid of California's future. California's future problems must be solved; not by business, not by labor, not by agriculture, but by a combination of all these groups, working with toleration, determined to see that California comes through."

The board of directors adopted a resolution giving statewide support to San Francisco's bid for the permanent seat of the United Nations Organization.

"Veterans have a vital interest in the operation of economy on the basis of full production," Senator William F. Knowland declared in a section meeting studying the ex-servicemen's plight as to housing, etc.

"Labor and management must realize the public interest is paramount, and that production stoppage is the public's business and not the private affair of those involved."

Protesting a recent federal law to abandon aid to the war-born Guayule rubber production industry, the directors urged that the Guayule land owners have opportunity—free from federal price restrictions and without subsidy—to demonstrate their ability to operate the plants on a lease basis before these plants are junked and Guayule is plowed under.

Request was made that the call for the special legislative session include an agenda item appropriating funds for defense of California's position concerning ownership and control of tidelands.

Action to alleviate housing shortages in rural areas was recommended through amendment of war housing measures to also permit disposition of war housing for agricultural purposes. This included sales of such housing in small units, which farmers or their organizations can finance.

The concurrent meetings of the travel and recreation, natural resources, taxation, social security, highway, industrial and agricultural departments developed many other matters of vital interest to California, and the discussions and viewpoints are being given further study with a view to initiating within a short time a further program of progress for all sections and all interests in California.

Father Hubbard Lecture

Gen. George S. Patton had this to say of Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S. J., who will appear at the University of Santa Clara in an illustrated lecture, "Mission To Europe," on Friday evening, Dec. 7:

"In my opinion, the talks which Father Hubbard has given to the various Army units, are far more popular than any other form of entertainment which the soldiers have received. Should Father Hubbard desire to return to Europe, I shall be very glad to have him in any unit which I then command."

Gen. Geoffrey Keys declared: "These lectures have been most favorably received by both officers and enlisted men. . . . I have personally invited Father Hubbard to return at the earliest possible date to continue these lectures with the troops of the seventh army."

Father Hubbard, who spent three months recently touring the battlegrounds of Europe, is just completing an eastern lecture tour and will return to the University of Santa Clara campus for the concluding lecture in the series.

Tickets may be obtained at Sherman Clay, also the University of Santa Clara.

"Me . . . I'm staying in the Army!

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS . . . AND HERE THEY ARE!"

1 "First, I keep my present grade. That means a lot.

2 "By reenlisting for 3 years I can pick my own branch of service in the Air, Ground or Service Forces, and can go to any overseas theater I wish.

3 "I get my mustering-out pay, even though I'm reenlisting. Also, I get $50 a year reenlistment bonus for each year I've been in the Army. My dependents receive family allowances for the full term of my enlistment. And I'll be eligible for GI Bill of Rights benefits when I get out of the Army.

4 "My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. And I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools.

5 "All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 30 to 90 days' furlough at home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.

6 "Any time after 20 years I can retire at half pay increasing year by year to three-quarters retirement pay after 30 years of service. And the time I've already served in active military or naval service counts toward my retirement time. Added up—reenlistment seems pretty sound to me!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, with the Golden Text from Isaiah (45:18): "Thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited; I am the Lord; and there is none else."

One of the Bible citations in the sermon is from the 33rd Psalm, "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth." Correlative to this verse is the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (p. 69).

Children's Society To Build

California's unwanted babies who begin life ill, underweight or requiring special care, will find a new $120,000 nursery and clinic awaiting them after Dec. 10, Leroy Goodrich, president of the state-wide Children's Home Society of California, announced from the organizations' Oakland headquarters. On that date, the society will open in Los Angeles one of the most modern buildings of its kind.

The non-profit organization, one of the state's two adoption agencies, last year placed more children in permanent homes than any similar organization throughout the nation, Goodrich revealed in announcing the opening of the new facility.

"In addition to the nursery for 30 newly-born infants, there will be a clinic for examination of all ages and a wing for training classes and other staff activities," he added. "Generous private contributions have made the seriously-needed structure possible, and it is a major step forward in our effort to meet unpredented pressure created by the state's mushrooming population. Even considering that the society has placed 17,000 children in permanent homes since its organization 54 years ago, we still could service twice as many children if we had the funds and facilities. At present, we have about six applications for every child available for adoption."

Adoption is not a hit-or-miss proposition, Goodrich disclosed. First, parents wishing to release a child for adoption are consulted at length to make sure that family ties are not unnecessarily broken. Then follows a study of the child and preparation for placement, including medical, clinical and psychological care.

Meanwhile applicants who seek a child are carefully investigated as to personality, affection for and ability to get along with childrne, judgment, tolerance and patience, home surroundings, educational background and financial status. Infants are cared for in the nursery and older children art placed in one of the society's homes in Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego until the child is ready for placement in a home which best fits its individual personality. Even after placing a child in a foster home, the society carefully inspects his progress for a year before final legal adoption is permitted.

T B Association Reports

More tuberculosis cases are being reported in California and tuberculosis associations in the state, now in the midst of conducting the 39th annual Christmas Seal Sale, are proud of it.

The seeming paradox of organizations dedicated to the control of a disease rejoicing over its apparent increase, becomes logical when all factors involved are considered, according to Dr. Howard W. Bosworth, Los Angeles, president of the California Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"Figures released by the state department of public health show that in 1943 there were 3878 tuberculosis deaths and 7893 new cases reported, while in 1944 there were 3837 deaths and 8626 new cases," he said. Thus in 1944 there were 41 fewer daths and 723 more new cases reported than in the previous year.

"If tubercuolsis actually were on the increase in California there would be more deaths. The growing number of reported cases alone, however, proves that we are succeeding in one of our goals: to find tuberculosis early that individuals suffering from it may be isolated in sanatoria where they will not infect others and will be given the advantages of early treatment.

"In 1944 case-finding projects in California were just hitting their stride. Since Jan. 1, 1945, the state association and local tuberculosis associations in California have taken approximately 100,000 miniature chest X-rays of supposedly healthy individuals. Every case of tuberculosis found as the result of those surveys, therefore, is a new case pointed toward the elimination of one more source of tuberculous infection.

"These X-ray projects are but one of the many activities that make up the year-round program of your tuberculosis association, which depends for its financial support on the sale of Christmas Seals."

Rites Held For Rev. Hugh Jones

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 2 p. m. for the Rev. Hugh M. Jones, former pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church in San Jose, who was found dead of carbon monoxide gas in his garage at the family home on First St. last Friday afternoon.

The Rev. Jones had recently resigned from the Westminster Presbyterian church to become executive director of the Conference Commission with headquarters in San Francisco and had returned to Campbell only a few days previous to his death from Lake Tahoe, which was headquarters for four months out of the year.

A native of Wales, the well-known pastor was a graduate of Occidental College in Los Angeles and had received his theological training at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, taking the Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1923 and the D. D. in 1942. He belonged to several national honorary societies: Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Kappa Delto, Delta Sigma Rho, and served as vice-president of the San Francisco Chapter of Chi Alpha, Presbyterian ministers' fraternity.

In addition to his work in the pulpit, the Rev. Jones took an active part in community life and had been president of the San Jose Ministerial Association, chairman of the Union Service Committees, director of the Volunteers of America, and president of the Council of Churches.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three sons: Richard David, Edwin Arnal and Harold Vaugh, and three brothers: Robert Jones of San Jose and Richard Glynn and Griffith Jones of Wales.

At his final rites from the chapel of Amos D. Williams Co., the Rev. Clifford A. Cole of Glendale officiated. Pallbearers were the Revs. Mark Rifenbark, Henry Hunter, Hubert C. Mathews, Stephen Peabody, N. S. Hammack and Donald Stewart.

Box Office Reporter

Tomorrow and Saturday the Campbell Theater brings a treat to theater goers in the show "The Corn is Green". The stage play by Emlyn Williams, in which Ethel Barrymore scored a great triumph several seasons ago, has been translated into a motion picture that commands respect. Its story is uncommon on the screen, but it is cast with a group of excellent performers led by Bette Davis and including two young players making their screen debuts with the aid of veterans.

The story deals with knowledge and the thirst for it. Told in terms of a teacher and her pupil, the drama develops in the clash of their personalities and background rather than in romantic love.

Under the painstaking direction of Irving Rapper, the treatment is restrained but always interesting. It has a good deal of humor, some emotionally moving scenes and the picturesque background of the Welsh countryside at the end of the last century.

It is above all a performance piece. Miss Davis, as the teacher from England who tries to bring learning to a small mining town and finds one pupil who will take all she has to give, has the commanding role and plays it with suitable authority. She is a woman who forces her will on others and learns too late that understanding would gain a less costly victory.

Max Steiner's music captures the spirit of the bare and misty country, and the plaintive folk songs by a mixed chorus of young voices are important and delightful adjuncts to the entertainment, as is the low-keyed photography of Sol Polito.

Being welcomed home is Ensign Carl B. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Field, from Florida, where he has been stationed. He is now on terminal leave.

Atkinson Home Soon

Captain Noel K. Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zo Atkinson, 590 Apricot Ave., has been released from the Army at Fort Douglas, Utah, and is at present in Lander, Wyoming, with his wife, the former Eulalia Griffith, who has been living there with her parents during her husband's absence overseas. Captain Atkinson, who was employed in one of the large sugar companies in Honolulu before the war, entered the service before Pearl Harbor. His service included one year in the Pacific theater. His terminal leave expires February 19, but his parents expect the Captain and his wife home before then to make their home in the valley.
